Workers' Compensation Information

(1) The workers' compensation law provides indemnity benefits (wage loss) and medical benefits to employees who cannot work, or who need medical care, because of a work-related injury.

(2) Your employer is required to pay benefits when self-insured, or through insurance provided by your employer. Your employer is required to post the name of the company responsible for paying workers' compensation benefits at its primary place of business and at its sites of employment in a prominent and easily accessible place, including, without limitation, areas used for the treatment of injured employees or for the administration of first aid.

(3) You should report any injury or work-related illness as soon as possible to your employer and to your Workers' Compensation service provider as directed. Your benefits could be delayed or denied if you do not notify your employer immediately.

(4) You have the right to request a hearing before a workers' compensation judge if your employer denies your claim.

(5) The Bureau of Workers' Compensation cannot provide legal advice. However, you may contact the Bureau of Workers' Compensation for additional general information at:
