STATE OF THE DISTRICT
From Superintendent Emilie M. Lonardi, Ph.D.

I am so pleased that we were able to start the 2021-22 school year in person, five days a week. We know that students are most successful when they have a consistent and reliable schedule. With the health and safety measures we have in place, I feel confident that this year will be a vast improvement over last.

Instruction during the 2021-22 school year will continue to promote our academic vision of rigor, student engagement and student agency, but will see an intentional, laser focus on student relationships. Our staff will encourage and promote strong bonds with their students as well as cultivate relationships within the classrooms. Our goal is to make sure that every student knows that they have an adult invested in them with whom they can confide and trust.

In addition to relationship building, DASD will continue to address the mental health needs of our staff and students with additional staff, curriculum, new student programs, a departmental audit to identify areas for growth and several community events. We are facing a national mental health crisis and we must continue to be vigilant and to work with our staff and community to recognize and assist students who are struggling. DASD is committed to promoting safe and supportive schools that foster healthy social and emotional development. We invite our entire school community to join us in this endeavor.

As DASD enrollment continues to grow, we are making plans and preparations for how to meet the needs of our population while minimizing the need to redistrict. Full day kindergarten is on the horizon as we take steps toward expanding our existing schools and investigate new construction opportunities.

Throughout the pandemic, I made an intentional effort to find silver linings. In a year unlike any that I have experienced in my 24 years as a superintendent, I have seen incredible resolve and resilience in our staff, students and community. The 2021-22 school year is beginning much brighter than last, and together, we will make it exceptional.
SUPPORTING THE MENTAL HEALTH OF DASD STAFF AND STUDENTS

DASD has faced significant challenges over the past year and a half. In addition to the general mental health needs of our student population and the impact of the pandemic, together we experienced the tragic loss of four of our school community members to suicide.

While we have persistently dedicated our district to improving mental health curriculum and supports in our schools, we must and will do more. We must come together to end the stigma surrounding mental health and get help into the hands of those who need it most. Amidst this national epidemic, we are committed to fighting; we cannot and will not stand idly by.

DASD appreciates its community’s support in promoting a positive, inclusive school culture that celebrates our diverse community and healthy social and emotional development.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION

At DASD, we work to ensure that every student is encouraged to succeed and provided the means to reach their highest potential. By focusing on diversity, equity and inclusion and how they directly relate to overall student mental health and wellness, we will address physical and procedural barriers to full inclusion within the district. Effective school-wide strategies that align wellness, inclusion, diversity and equity empower all students to meet their individual and unique goals.

Recognizing that a truly inclusive environment is vital to the wellness and success of all students, teachers and staff, DASD has worked to better serve our diverse population by focusing on improving equity and inclusion, district-wide. To be completely inclusive, all individuals within the district must feel safe to express ideas, dreams and dialogues. Hate, disrespect, intimidation and intolerance have no place in our district or in our community. There must be equal access to and opportunity for everyone to contribute fully.

We must acknowledge that many individuals have complex identities in which their experiences have been based on, including gender, race, color, creed, sexual orientation and ability and we must respect these differences.

BUDGET
YEAR IN REVIEW
For the eighth consecutive year, DASD did not increase school taxes for the 2020-2021 school year, saving residents an average of $4,000 over the eight-year period, as compared to the Act 1 inflation index. Due to the effects of the pandemic, budgeted revenue from real estate and earned income taxes was anticipated to decline; however, actual revenue remained strong throughout the school year. Stronger-than-anticipated revenue, along with federal grants and responsible fiscal management, allowed the district to sufficiently fund budgeted expenses, as well as additional expenses associated with the pandemic.

FACILITIES

UWCHLAN HILLS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The new-and-improved Uwchlan Hills Elementary School welcomed its inaugural class during the 2020-21 school year. The building replaces the previous structure which served as a DASD place of learning for 48 years! The modern facility boasts an innovation lab and a Science Technology Engineering & Math (STEM) lab, both located in the core area of the building for all students to use, and state-of-the-art energy recovery heating and cooling systems. Natural light and flexible learning spaces make Uwchlan Hills the place to be this school year!

DOWNINGTOWN STEM ACADEMY

Downingtown STEM Academy received a face-lift and expansion, opening its new wings in the fall of 2020. The expansions will accommodate 200 additional students by the 2023-24 school year. The renovations include:

• Introduction of flexible learning spaces, offering a broad range of configurations, from medium-sized assembly arrangements down to small breakout group instruction and individual focus. The three-story atrium provides a large group collaborative space featuring the comfort, flexibility and technical support of a 21st century learning environment.

• 15 new classrooms and labs, providing state-of-the-art learning space for up to 200 new students. The new facility offers visual access to the building’s structural, mechanical, electrical and plumbing systems, providing real-life STEM application opportunities.

• On the exterior, it was important to not detract from the building’s historic presence in the community. Therefore, facilities went to great lengths to ensure that the exterior stone was mined from the same source as the original structure. With full-height glass walls, the old and new blend seamlessly and add a modern touch to the facility.
