Downingtown Area School District
Summer Reading 2021
AP English Literature and Composition

The following books are available in libraries and bookstores; however, we strongly recommend you purchase these books if possible so that you can highlight passages and make marginal notes.

Part I: Read How to Read Literature Like a Professor: A Lively and Entertaining Guide to Reading Between the Lines (Revised Edition) by Thomas C. Foster. This practical and oftentimes amusing guide to literature is the perfect companion for making your reading experiences more enriching, satisfying, and fun. The author is a Professor of English at the University of Michigan, Flint, where he teaches classes in contemporary fiction, drama and poetry as well as creative writing and composition.

Part II: Read Frankenstein by Mary Shelley and complete the assignment on the back of this sheet. This novel resonates with philosophical and moral ramifications: themes of nurture versus nature, good versus evil, and ambition versus social responsibility dominate readers' attention and provoke thoughtful consideration of the most sensitive issues of our time and is often listed as a choice for the free response essay on the AP English Literature and Composition exam.

Part III: Read The Awakening (a story within The Awakening and Selected Short Fiction with an introduction and notes by Rachel Adams) by Kate Chopin. As evidenced by the many reprints of the book, modern critics appreciate Chopin’s skill and artistry—particularly her use of psychological realism, symbolic imagery, and sensual themes. The feminist movement lauds Chopin’s portrayal of Edna and the restraints tradition places on women. Prepare to discuss this short fiction piece.

Part IV: Read The Narrative of Frederick Douglass, An American Slave by Frederick Douglass. This memoir is a prime example of literary non-fiction and an important part of the American literary canon. Prepare to discuss this memoir.
Observing Literature: AP Literature Summer Reading Assignment

Now that you have read How to Read Literature Like a Professor, you should put his ideas into practice. After reading Mary Shelley’s Frankenstein, you will be required to submit a two to three page analytical reflection based on conclusions drawn from your observations. In other words, what patterns of meaning do you recognize and how do they relate to the novel? This is an analytical reflection NOT a five-paragraph essay; it should have a cohesive and cogent focus (like every paper you write). Be sure to frequently integrate quoted words/phrases (as opposed to dropping in entire lines of text) and refer to specific examples; details always authenticate your ideas.

To prepare for this paper, make notes* in the margins (or on Post-it notes) of Frankenstein and/or take notes of your observations during and immediately after you read. Your observations of the work need not be complete sentences and should include those literary features identified in Foster’s book. Some topics for consideration include:

- The role of weather, food, water, sex, and sight
- The role of violence, illness, blindness and death
- The role of flight, the supernatural, and mythology
- The role of allusions, symbols, and irony

*Your instructor may collect these notes when you return to school in August.
Downingtown Area School District
Summer Reading 2021
AP English Literature and Composition

Summer Reading Partnerships

Wellington Square Bookshop

Shop for your summer reading book online at https://wellingtonsquarebooks.indielite.org/ or in-person June 14-20th and receive a 10% discount on purchases when you show your DASD student ID.

- Looking for a specific title? Pre-order your book online and pick-up in store.
- Looking for recommendations? Email Wellington’s Mike for suggestions at info@wellingtonsquarebooks.com, subject: Mike Recommendations.

Support DASD Schools

A portion of the proceeds will go to the Downingtown Area School District ELA Department.